DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 – 7 and 35 - 40 drawn to apparatus for the ultrasonic treatment of tissue;

Group II, claim(s) 28 and 29, drawn to method for treating tissue;

Group III, claim(s) 33 and 34, drawn to method of applying ultrasound to a surface of patient;

Group IV, claim(s) 41 and 42, drawn to a method of applying ultrasound to a surface of two patients;

Group V, claim(s) 43, drawn to method for treating tissue;

Group VI, claim(s) 44, drawn to apparatus for ultrasonic treatment of tissue.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I - VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Group I and Group II do not meet the unity of invention requirement because the ultrasonic housing of Group I can be used following a procedurally different method than the one of Group III. The reason being: the method of Group II be accomplished by a materially different apparatus such as one that does not require a housing having a space therewithin and an elastic interface.

Group I and Group III do not meet the unity of invention requirement because the ultrasonic housing of Group I can be used following a procedurally different method than the one of Group II. The reason being: the housing of Group I comprises an elastic interface, which is materially different than the one required by Group II, which does not require an elastic interface. Additionally, the method of Group II requires an ultrasonic housing that comprises a source of acoustic energy coupled to a portion of an inner surface thereof, which is materially different than the housing of Group I, which does not specify the location or placement of the acoustic energy. Furthermore, Group II does not specify the type of acoustic energy being used; whereas Group I specifies that ultrasonic vibrations are applied.

Group I and Group IV do not meet the unity of invention requirement because the ultrasonic housing of Group I can be used following a procedurally different method than the one of Group IV. The reason being: The method of Group IV requires the use of housing that requires sterilization prior to being used on a second patient, which could be materially different than the one claimed by Group I; which, as is known in the art, may only require the use of some kind of protective disposable sleeve or covering over the contact surface.

Group I and Group IV do not meet the unity of invention requirement because the ultrasonic housing of Group I can be used following a procedurally different method than the one of Group V. The reason being: the method of Group V requires the use of housing comprising means for injecting ultrasonic vibrations into the liquid in contact with tissue surface, which is materially different than the housing of Group I.

Group I and Group V do not meet the unity of invention requirement because the ultrasonic housing of Group I is a materially different apparatus than the housing of Group VI. The reason being: the housing of Group V comprises an inlet canal and an outlet canal, which the housing of Group I does not.

3. A telephone call was made to Martin D. Moynihan on March 30, 2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
